

A Trembling Departure

by Glenn Currier

Your trembling departure dissolves the crosses and tombstones of your longing and curls you into the shore of a new horizon.

Cast off, you voyager into fresh waters
replete with protozoan possibilities.

Set your sails on sturdy masts, abandon your mourning and night;
take a naked flight.

The mouth and mind
of a ravenous prospect await your arrival.
