

What would life be if...

I could paint a rainbow on the moon
Mozart came back to give me a tune climb in a conch shell and float its coral sea bring my Mom back to laugh with me
I had a five-year old's fancy and joy
I giggled as free as a little boy
I could ride a buffalo on the great plains course through Jesus' veins
Chief Joseph advised me on a vision quest
I were never ever again depressed
Neruda came back to teach me to write
I could take wing with butterflies in flight?

Author's Note: This poem was inspired by a Garth Hill photo-creation (referenced below). Garth usually has an inspirational quote below his photos on flickr.com. This is the quote accompanying the photo cited below: "What would life be if we had no courage to attempt anything?" – Van Gogh

<https://www.flickr.com/photos/mindfeather/19115340578/in/dateposted/>

"What would life be if," Copyright 2020 by Glenn Currier Written 9-18-20