

Prayer at Dawning

It is so good to be with you at this dawning to be in the presence of you the ultimate forgiver and reconciler.

In this momentary softness I fly to your bosom and rest there knowing you are eager to see and be part of my genesis.

You are a God of now.
You are a God who forgets the errors of my yesterdays and resides in the possibilities of creation this day,
this moment.
This now.
